Dear Brothers:

We are writing to express our deep gratitude for the 45 copies of The Black Male Handbook: A Blueprint for Life that you so generously donated to the young men in our Black, male mentoring program at Boyd Anderson High School. In October of 2009, twelve young men joined the dropout prevention movement by becoming mentors. At the time, these young, Black men were juniors in high school, and they had earned grade point averages of 3.0 or higher. Each of these young men committed to mentoring Black, male freshmen who ended the first semester with grade point averages below 2.0 on a 4.0 scale. This program now serves over 35 families, and we could not do what we do without the support of organizations like yours.

Thank you,
